Beauty on a Budget

Cosmetic Plans, founded by Jacqueline Dascal Chariff, just launched in South Florida. This cosmetic membership platform makes popular procedures like Botox, CoolSculpting and laser hair removal more affordable. The program helps find the right procedure and doctor, and, for a nominal monthly fee, members receive a minimum of 20 percent off standard retail rates, plus other special benefits. Miami Center of Dermatology in Pinecrest is participating, among others. (cosmeticplans.com)

WALK OF LIFE

Boca Raton resident Susan Caplan is in urgent need of a kidney transplant. To help spread the word about polycystic kidney disease, a chronic genetic disease from which she and one of her sons suffer, Susan drives around with a sign on her car asking for a donor. As the volunteer coordinator of the PKD Foundation's South Florida chapter, she continues to help others who suffer from this debilitating disease while she waits desperately to receive a new kidney of her own. This year's South Florida Walk for PKD, a fundraiser that serves to raise money for the cause, will take place on Nov. 4 in Hollywood. (pkdcure.org)

New Rental Digs

Pompano Beach has emerged as one of South Florida's trendiest neighborhoods to watch, which helps explain the buzz around its new rental community. Avery Residences, a luxury, eight-story property, encompasses 144 tech-ready, environmentally sustainable units—with pricing starting in the $1,600s each month. Developed by Meyers Group, Avery Pompano Beach has just topped off. (meyersgroup.net)

BLANKET STATEMENT

Louis Vuitton has always been synonymous with luxury and status; fashionistas everywhere tote the brand's signature handbags, while chic jet-setters travel the globe with designer luggage and steamer trunks bearing the infamous emblem. We've cozied up to LV's wool and cashmere Neo Monogram Blanket, where comfort and style collide. $1,420; available through the Louis Vuitton boutique inside Town Center at Boca Raton or at us.louisvuitton.com.
